Will the Ministry fill up these gaps and order a General Election? We shall see.

From the establishment of Messis. Mc-Clear & Co,, Toronto, we have received a copy of the Canadian Almanac for the year 1858. This being the case, and believing probably in the old adage, that "delays are dangerous," he now urges with considerable rehemence the necessity of immediately appointing a Commissioner of Crown Lands, as well as Provincial Secretary. Another new phase in the position occupied by the Government organs is, they now state that the Opposition desire to stave off nn appeal to the people. Every body, however, knows this to be only a trick to make electioneering capital for pet candidates, at the expense of their opponents. The Orposition, so far as we have been able to certain their views, are positively anxious for a General Election; but while this is the case, they also demand that an election do not take place without a moment's warning -thereby taking the electors by surprise, as Hincks and Morin did in 1864. The organ at Toronto, it is true hints strongly that an election will shortly take place; but then it is couched in such vegue lenguage, that the public are left in uncertainty-enough only being said to create auspicion. . In apeaking on this point, the Leader of Wednesday

In all cases where a public road bas been opened, or where a new road shall be opened in lieu of the original road allowance, and for which compensation shall have been or shall be paid, the Municipal Council of the Township, or of the County, as the case may be, shall in their respective jurisdictions, have power to sell such During the week, judging from the char- original road allowance to the party or parties

It also makes it the duty of the Clerk to attend to the above provisions; provided he is unid his reasonable expenses by the party making application therefor.

> This act is of considerable importance, and one that should be generally known. Many of our side-roads, particularly, are not upon the original road allowance, while the parties owning lands alongside have received no compensation for the lands taking for new roads. This Act will enable such parties to receive some compensation. For, although the land of such original allowance may not be of much value, and the fact that it was impracticable to construct the road in the proper place implies this; yet there is often valuable timber standing, which will partly remunerate or compensate. Parties placed in the position referred to, by examming the foregoing synopsis of this Act, will know exactly what to do.

To the Editor of the New Bra.

DEAR SIR-On perusing your interesting paper I see that the people of Newmarket have again got the blechanies' Institute in working order, and are alive to the importance of selfimprovement. I am glad of this; but I am still more pleased to find that some of the lo calities surrounding you are not altogether in different to the importance of self-education.

On the 10th ultimo, the inhabitants of the 5th Concession of Whitchurch, held a meeting to take into consideration the propriety of forming a Literary Association,-when it was unanimously resolved that an Association, if properly conducted, would prove highly beneficial to its members. An Association was then organized by appointing Wm. McPherson, President; Mr. Ew'd Reynolds Vice do.; Mr. P. W. Playter, Secretary-Treasurer.

We have now an Association of twenty-four members; have had three interesting and spirited debates on important subjects, in which a considerable amount of talent and knowledge of the rules of debate have been elicited on | in a day or two.

Every fourth meeting is set apart for the purlose of delivering Lectures, reading Essays, etc. The first meeting of this kind was held on Saturday evening last, -when three interesting and lengthy Essays were read, all of them well-timed and suited for the occasion. One of them was from the pen of Mr. L. Tayfor and showed that the author possessed a large and expansive imagination intermingled a good deal with poetic fire and genius. A second was read by Mr. J. Taylor, and was replete with interest and matter-of-fact; and showed the author well calculated to treat on abstrac drew forth quite a good deal of applause.

Connecticut.

Toronto, Nov. 13th, 1857. We clip from the Colonist of yesterday, the following in regard to market prices: The week clases without the occurrence of any especial event in trade. There is little or no improvement to notice in the general business of the city. No change is apparent, the money market being as tight as ever, causing a great depression in all branches of trade. The Banks are discounting in some very particular instances, and it is to be hoped they will increase their discounts. The WHEAT trade has been marked with no particular rise or fall in price during the past | chesp. week, in fact them has been hardly a perceptible variation from day to day; this is in a manner accounted for by there being only one buyer to any extent in the market, viz., Messes. Gooderham & Co. The quality of wheat does not at all improve. The average price for the week will be 5s per bushel, and the gross delivery about 25,000 bushels.

In From there has been nothing extensive done this week. There have been the last few days some empiries for large lots by strangers, but whether they made purchases or not we have not as yet heard. There have been large quantities of farmers' flour in daily, ranging low, say from $13 to $15 per barrel. Oars which had ron down in price at the latter out of last week to 1s 6d have sinco
